AGED BUT ACTIVE.

An Old Lady Who Netted Six Thousand Dollars from Her Knitting.

Not long ago Dr. Peabody, of Auburn, while making a professional call at the residence of Charles Holbrook, a prominent farmer of North Auburn, learned of the remarkable story of an aunt of Mr. Holbrook, whose death occurred some weeks ago, says the Lewiston (Me.) Journal. The aunt's name was Mary Holbrook, and at her decease at the age of ninety-three, she was a widow, living in the town of Holbrook, Mass. She was the mother of twenty-three children and but three were living at the date of her death. She never weighed over one hundred pounds, and in her last days did not weigh over ninety. When seventy-five years of age she began to knit tidies, to while away the time more than anything else, and it was not long until she had over one hundred as the result of her work.

She did not knit the tidies especially for the market, but one day her son took a few samples to Boston, where he found a ready sale for them at Whitney's store, on the corner of Tremont and Winter streets. The tidies seemed to strike Mr. Whitney's customers very favorably, and he was obliged to find the old woman in Holbrook and secure for his store all the tidies she had. Not only this, but he arranged with her to take all she could make at a good figure. She soon found, however, that she could not begin to fill the order, and a certain class of customers at the "Hub" had a regular cruise for them. So what did Mrs. Holbrook do but engage several old ladies in the neighborhood to do the coarser parts of the work, filling in the finer parts with her own hands. "In this way," says the writer of Mrs. Holbrook's obituary, "from her seventy-fifth to her ninetieth year, fifteen years, she netted six thousand dollars from the sale of her tidies, upon which fully one-half of the work was done with her own hands. How many ladies over whose silver hairs so many winters have kindly passed can show such a record of almost wonderful patience and perseverance, we wonder."

He Loves Sweetme
Brooklyn has a horse with a sweet tooth. He lately strolled into a confectioner's on Fulton avenue, picked up a stick of candy with his mouth, and invitingly held it toward the lady attendant. The lady imagined that the horse wanted the candy wrapped up and sent home, and was about to comply when the owner of the animal entered the store. He explained that the horse was fond of candy, and usually ate it while some one held it for him to bite off. The horse's action indicated that it wanted the lady to hold the candy for him.

Tenant—The furnace in this house is no earthly good. It kept the house as cold as ice all winter.

Owner—Yes, ma'am; but see the advantage of having such a beautiful refrigerator in the house in the summer.

Face Bleach.

MRS GRAHAM'S

Cucumber and
Elder Flower
Cream

It is not a cosmetic in the sense in which that term is popularly used, but permanently beautifies. It creates a soft, smooth, clear velvety skin, and by daily use gradually makes the complexion several shades whiter. It is a constant protection from the effects of sun and wind, and prevents sunburn and freckles, and blackheads, will never come while you use it. It cleanses the face far better than does soap and water, nourishes and builds up the skin tissues, and those prevent the formation of wrinkles. It gives the freshness, clearness and smoothness of the skin that you had when a little girl. Every lady, young or old, ought to use it, as it gives a most youthful appearance to any lady, and that permanently. It contains no acid, powder or alkali, and is as harmless as dew and as nourishing to the skin as dew is to the flower. Price $1.00, at all druggists and hair-dressers, or at Mrs. Graham's establishment, 105 Post Street, San Francisco, where she treats ladies for all blemishes of the face or figure. Ladies at a distance treated by letter. Send stamp for her little book "How to be Beautiful."
